

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Great Minds in STEM Announces Cadet Leadership Honorees for 2019

Montebello, CA – Great Minds in STEM™ is proud to introduce the Class of Cadet Leadership Honorees for 2019. Cadets are chosen for demonstrating outstanding academic performance and leadership at our nation's service academies and the many ROTC programs at universities across the country.

The rigors and highly specialized nature of a military education exclude cadets from competing for the HENAAC Student Leadership awards, and so GMiS partnered with the Department of Defense in 2004 to create the Cadet Leadership Awards to honor these exceptional emerging leaders.

Cadet Maria J. Gordon
Senior, Biomedical Sciences
U.S. Army ROTC
Texas A&M University

Midshipmen First Class
Carlos Mancill
Senior, Aerospace Engineer
U.S. Naval Academy

Cadet Lynne Mooradian
Senior, Mechanical Engineering
U.S. Military Academy - West Point

Cadet Joseph C. Rodriguez
Senior, Electrical Engineering
U.S. Coast Guard Academy

Cadet First Class
Lucy Zimmerman
Senior, Physics
U.S. Air Force Academy

Cadet Leadership Award Winners will be honored at the Future STEM Leaders Luncheon on Thursday, September 26, 2019 – part of the larger 2019 31st Annual GMiS Conference taking place September 25-28 at Disney's Coronado Springs Resort in Lake Buena Vista, Florida.

About the Organization

Great Minds in STEM™ is a 501(c)3 a non-profit organization dedicated to keeping America technologically strong by promoting Science, Technology, Engineering and Math (STEM) careers, especially in underserved communities. Established in 1989 and based in the Los Angeles area, the organization's nation-wide programming focuses on STEM educational awareness from kindergarten through college, and on seeking-out and documenting the world-class contributions of Hispanic professionals in STEM to serve as role models for the next generation of American engineers and scientists.

Great Minds in STEM's annual Conference is the organization's flagship event where all elements of outreach and programming come together to celebrate excellence in STEM. The conference features executive forums, seminars, competitive programs, career opportunities and networking sessions and is attended by over 3,000 STEM students and professionals annually.

Great Minds in STEM is once again partnering with CAHSI (the Computing Alliance of Hispanic Serving Institutions), and will feature CHCI (the Congressional Hispanic Caucus Institute) in 2019. They've all chosen the Conference as the venue for annual meetings and events.
