FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Great Minds in STEM™ and Northrop Grumman Foundation Return to Cactus Middle School for Third Consecutive Year

Montebello, CA – February 26, 2019- Great Minds in STEM™ (GMiS) in partnership with the Northrop Grumman Foundation, will bring a Viva Technology™ program to Cactus Middle School in Palmdale, CA for the third year in a row.

As part of GMiS' national K-12 education programs, Viva Technology™ engages students, teachers and parents with STEM challenges that foster awareness, build skills in the applications of science and technology and provide a STEM education and career pathways. Teacher and parent orientations which will be held on Thursday, February 28, 2019. The Teacher Orientation will provide information and materials that acquaint educators with the program and affords them educational resources so they can continue to encourage their students to pursue STEM fields. The parent component will lend information to help parents encourage their children to excel in math and science and envision themselves as future engineers and scientists. Teacher and parent attendees will interact and hear from Northrop Grumman representative Marcelino Garcia, Manufacturing Engineer.

On Friday, March 1, approximately 100 middle school students will experience a full day of STEM project-based exercises that challenge their understanding of the Engineering and Science Design Process. Approximately 22 STEM college students from the California State University, Northridge, Pasadena City College, Antelope Valley College, College of the Canyons, and California State University, Los Angeles will serve as College Captain near-peer mentors, providing mentorship, guidance and leadership throughout the day. Cactus Middle School students will also closely interact with professional role models as the program will also be supported by Northrop Grumman One Adelante Employee Resource Group Members. Joining the event as keynote speaker will be Brian Gonzalez, Manufacturing Engineer Northrop Grumman and Chairperson for One Adelante – Palmdale Chapter.
