Great Minds in STEM™ to Join The Shell Oil Company to deliver K-12 STEM Programs at Super Bowl LI Community Outreach Event

Monterey Park, CA – Great Minds in STEM™ (GMiS) and the Shell Oil Company continue their longstanding partnership to promote Science, Technology Engineering and Math (STEM) to underserved students, as they come together to bring STEM opportunities to the Houston, Texas community during the Youth Bowl Experience – Saturday February 4, 2017 at Texas Southern University (TSU).

The Youth Bowl Experience, made possible by Shell, The Andre Johnson Foundation, the Houston Sports Authority, as well as other sponsors, will bring together youth and community stakeholders at TSU for a day of education, physical activity and fun for the entire family as part of Super Bowl weekend activities happening in the city. During the Youth Bowl experience, students 8 -17 will be able to interact with athletes, past and present NFL players and a host of community based organizations.

Dozens of Shell Oil Company employees from the Houston area, along with local college students and the GMiS team members will be on hand to work with the youth, showcasing the various ways STEM plays a part in our enjoyment and participation in sports. GMiS will also conduct a STEM workshop for parents and STEM activities for kids of all ages.

About Great Minds in STEM™

Great Minds in STEM™ is a national 501(c)3 nonprofit organization based in Los Angeles County with a 29-year history of keeping America technologically strong through the delivery of national STEM awareness programs to underserved and underrepresented communities. Through the GMiS network, academic, career development and mentoring opportunities are offered to students who are underrepresented in STEM fields. The organization is focused on working to build a diverse 21st Century STEM workforce in which all citizens contribute to innovation and experience prosperity.
